PERSONAL MATCHMAKING

A little clarity.
A useful next step.

YOUR PRACTICAL COMPANION

One topic. Two points of view.

Listen first. Keep what you learn.

Choose one topic you both feel comfortable discussing. Each person answers; write short notes, not a verdict.

> Choose one: commitment · family · faith · communication · money · living closer.

The topic we both want to explore

MY VOICE

What matters to me.

A wish, a responsibility or a question

THEIR VOICE

What I actually heard.

Their answer, in their own terms

NOTICE

What became clearer?

Something I had assumed

What I understand differently now

A point we both want to return to — or leave open

Write down the person’s answer, not a rule about a whole culture. Each of you can pass on a question.
