Mélih

PERSONAL MATCHMAKING

A little clarity.
A useful next step.

YOUR PRACTICAL COMPANION

What matters, and why.

Sort three criteria. Find one honest question.

Choose essential, preference or still open. Give a reason and an everyday example for three points from your own life.

What matters to me | My category

01

Why it matters in my life | What it looks like in everyday life

What matters to me | My category

02

Why it matters in my life | What it looks like in everyday life

What matters to me | My category

03

Why it matters in my life | What it looks like in everyday life

TAKE ONE INTO A CONVERSATION

Explain. Then leave room for an answer.

“This matters to me because… How do you see it?”

An essential is something you cannot freely set aside. A preference leaves room for another way. Still open means you need to reflect or ask, rather than assume.